The ss Great Britain has travelled a million miles at sea and been around the world 32 times. She represents enterprise and endeavour – the very same values that ensure success in business.

Today, Brunel’s ss Great Britain is a world-class museum, welcoming nearly 200,000 visitors every year.

Partnership with the Trust offers your company unique ways to link your brand to an important piece of Bristol heritage.

By supporting Brunel’s ss Great Britain, your company can:

- Protect the ship that changed the world
- Inspire, educate and amaze school children
- Delight employees and clients with unique entertainment, at Bristol’s No.1 attraction (TripAdvisor 2014-2015)

“It is hard to imagine a more important survivor of our heritage, in terms of her significance to the industrial, economic, and social development of Britain.”

Dr Basil Greenhill, former Director, National Maritime Museum
Corporation membership is the perfect option for companies who wish to work with an organisation that is a leader in its field. All Corporate Members enjoy valuable association with Bristol's most iconic attraction.

Benefits include:

- Discounted hire of the unique conference and dining facilities at Brunel's ss Great Britain
- Invitations to special events
- Opportunities for recognition onsite, online and in the Trust’s publications

Cost: from £1,000 +VAT per annum

“We are proud to support an organisation that matches our company values of excellence and innovation. Partnership with the ss Great Britain Trust offers us benefits which our employees really value.”

Karen Gill, HR Director, IOP Publishing
Companies who join the Brunel Institute Corporate Academy (BICA) support comprehensive education programmes that bring learning to life for more than 20,000 children each year.

The ss Great Britain Trust has extensive links with local schools and runs exciting activities and hands-on workshops which support the national curriculum. More than this, the Trust provides additional support such as free days out for children from areas of educational deprivation and intensive support for promising pupils throughout their secondary school years.

BICA members work closely with the Trust. They feed into the programmes, share knowledge and expertise, inspire young people and open the door to future career opportunities.

There are annual networking events and all companies are generously acknowledged for their support.

THE BRUNEL INSTITUTE CORPORATE ACADEMY

Help inspire young people by supporting the Trust’s education programmes

“The education programmes support local children and inspire them with science, technology, engineering and maths, as well as history and culture. Rolls-Royce is a long standing supporter of these important programmes.”

Sean Connolly, Community Investment Specialist, Rolls-Royce Plc

Cost: £2,000 per annum
“More than 150 years after his death we still marvel at Brunel’s achievements, which continue to inspire new generations of engineers and innovators. As an engineering technologies company with our roots in Bristol, we had no hesitation in becoming a founding partner of the Being Brunel project.”

Chris Pockett, Head of Communications, Renishaw
The beautifully restored ss Great Britain is Bristol’s No.1 visitor attraction and the top rated independent museum in the UK. It lies in the heart of Bristol’s historic harbourside and is a unique venue for corporate events.

Spaces available for hire include the First Class Dining Saloon on board the ship, a brand new conferencing facility boasting a 250 seat lecture theatre and meeting rooms with views of Bristol’s Floating Harbour.

All guests are welcome to explore the ss Great Britain on the day of the event.
